AT A GLANCE

1. The Two Training Sessions

This document sets out the two training sessions, the issue of Qoder access, and the full programme timeline through to the National Grand Finale. Read it in full before 19 August.

Both sessions are delivered online and both begin at 13:30 Pakistan Standard Time, GMT+05:00. Attendance at both is required for all qualified participants.

Date	Session	Time	Duration
Wednesday 19 August	AI Hackathon Training: Qoder Quest	13:30 to 15:15 PKT	1 hour 45 minutes
Thursday 20 August	AI Hackathon Training: Qoder IDE	13:30 to 15:00 PKT	1 hour 30 minutes

Table 1.1. Training sessions.

Join both sessions

The two sessions cover different material and do not repeat one another. Session one introduces the tooling and how to work with it. Session two covers the development environment you will build in.

Attending only one leaves a gap that the build phase will not give you time to close.

ACTION REQUIRED

2. What to Do Before 19 August

No.	Action
1	Open both joining links in Section 3 and Section 4 now and confirm they work on the device you intend to use
2	Add both sessions to your calendar for 13:30 PKT on 19 and 20 August
3	Do not create a Qoder account using your participation email address. See Section 5
4	Check that a stable internet connection is available to you at 13:30 on both days, and join at least ten minutes early
5	If your project was registered as a team, share this document with your team members so that they attend as well

IMPORTANT

5. Qoder Access, 21 August

Qoder access will be provided to all qualified participants on 21 August 2026. It will be issued against your participation email address.

Do not register for Qoder before 21 August

Your participation email address is the email address you used to register for the Hackathon. It is the address this document was sent to.

Do not use that address to create a Qoder account before 21 August. If an account already exists against it, the access we issue cannot be applied to it, and resolving that will cost you time during the build phase.

If you wish to look at Qoder before then, use a different personal email address. Keep your participation email address free.

Access details will be sent to your participation email address on 21 August.

Table 6.1. Programme timeline. The Grand Finale on 10 September is a fixed date.

Training and the build phase are online, so participants can take part from anywhere in the country. The regional rounds and the National Grand Finale are in person. The allocation of each region to its date on 28, 29 or 30 August, together with the venue and reporting time, will be circulated separately in advance.

6.1 Submission

Submission details, including what is to be submitted, the format required and the deadline, will be circulated separately during the build phase. Nothing is due before then. Do not begin preparing a submission against any format you may have seen elsewhere.

OFFICIAL CHANNELS

7. Official Channels

Your registered email address is the primary channel for this programme. Every announcement and instruction is sent there first. Our Discord server carries the same information afterwards.

Programme instructions come only through those two channels. If a message about this Hackathon does not come from our official email address or from our Discord server, it is not official. We will never ask you for a password, a payment or a verification code.
